

Regulated Product Information

In order to ship orders for certain chemicals that you may place with or for EMD Millipore we would like to make you aware of the regulatory requirements and restrictions that apply to some of these materials.

Please note that some chemicals are covered by more than one set of regulations (e.g., nitric acid) and customers are advised to read all of the regulations listed below. Completing all the relevant documents at the time of opening your account, or shortly after, will allow us to deliver these products without the delays caused by subsequent need for documentation. Some documentation is valid for a one year period and in order to make efficient use of this validity it is recommended that you provide your EMD Millipore “ship to” account code at time of order placement.

Regulations are subject to change by the relevant authorities and EMD Millipore will aim to maintain the information affecting the sale of its products current at all times. In order to mitigate the risk that an order for an EMD Millipore product is held pending compliance with such regulations, it is recommended that the product lists included on this website are downloaded periodically and checked for changes.

EMD Millipore will not be held liable for any delays in product shipments arising from regulatory compliance needs under any circumstances.
